Scenes Caught By The Camera At Inauguration Of President Warren G. Harding

President Harding (1) with upraised arm, delivering his brief inaugural address. Mrs. Harding is indicated by figure 2. Close-up of Harding was taken as he rode to the White House from the Willard Hotel to join President Wilson on the ride to the capitol.

PANAMA "PAINED" BY NOTE FROM HUGHES

PANAMA, March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Receipt of the identical note sent to Costa Rica and Panama by Charles E. Hughes, American secretary of state, asking that hostilities between the two countries cease, "produced a painful impression," said President Fornes, of the republic of Panama, last evening.

"This impression was caused," continued the president, "because he advises us to withdraw from Coto, which we have recovered from the Costa Ricans."

The president reiterated the recent statement that the arbitration award handed down in 1914 by Chief Justice White was completely unacceptable to Panama, adding:

"There is no reason for compelling Panama to accept it, but we will be pleased to secure another opportunity to discuss our rights."

It is understood the United States cruiser Sacramento, with an eagle ensign, has arrived at Bocas del Torro, in this can be confirmed, since the British headquarters of the fifth naval district issued a statement saying that Admiral Bryan was conveying orders which could not be carried out at Balboa.

Foch Ordered To Seize Three German Towns

LONDON, Mar. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Allied troops will march into Germany tomorrow in accordance with the decision of the allies to inflict on Germany the penalties provided for because of the non-fulfillment of her reparations obligations, it was announced officially this evening.

After the Germans left the conference late this afternoon the British, French and Belgian premiers telegraphed orders for the immediate occupation by the allied troops to Ruhrort, Duisburg and Dusseldorf.

The German delegation will return to Germany tomorrow. Its members said after the conference that they were not empowered to make any further proposals, and that they regretted the possibility that the allied troops were already marching upon Germany.

The instructions to the allied commanders on the Rhine were given after the premiers had requested Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson to join in the discussion of the action to be taken. The allied representatives will meet again tomorrow to further the concerted enforcement of the various penalties.

LONDON, Mar. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Application of the penalties upon Germany for non-fulfillment of her reparations requirements was decided upon by the allies here this afternoon.

The penalties in question were announced to the Germans last Thursday by Mr. Lloyd George, the British prime minister. They are:

Occupation of the cities of Duisburg, Dusseldorf and Ruhrort, in the German industrial area beyond the Rhine, by troops of the allies;

Imposition by each allied country of such a tax upon German imports as it may deem fitting;

The establishment of a customs boundary under allied control along the Rhine.

Mr. Lloyd George informed the Germans today that not only were the proposals made by Foreign Minister Simons this morning unacceptable to the allies, but that notwithstanding the interval since last week's conference, the Germans had not made such an advance in their propositions as would justify postponement of the imposition of the penalties.

The British premier said he must announce on behalf of the allies a failure to come to even an approximate understanding with the Germans.

"Until we get proposals from Germany which mean a permanent settlement there can be no peace," he declared.

"We must insist upon a settlement now of two questions," said Mr. Lloyd George. "The first is the amount of payments, or the factors which should determine those amounts automatically according to the prosperity of Germany. What those factors should be we are prepared to discuss."

"The second point is the method of payment. A mere paper agreement promising payment is unsatisfactory and insufficient. It means endless disputes. These are the two questions that must be settled between Germany and ourselves and settled immediately. In the interests of the allies, of Germany and of the world, we must have a settlement, a definite settlement and an immediate settlement."

"Proposals such as these we heard today are not a settlement. They simply evade and postpone a settlement, and very regretfully we have reached the conclusion that the sanctions must be put into operation immediately."

"Regular Fellows," a clever comic strip by Gene Byrnes, has been added to The Times' long list of features. It starts today.

Officers Plan To Raid Night Riders' Nest

SCOTTSDALE, ALA., March 7.—State authorities today were preparing to clean up the supposed headquarters district near here of the night riders, which have been terrorizing northern Alabama communities. Announcement that they intended to organize a posse for the purpose was made by officers who took part in a street battle at Stevenson, near here, yesterday following an attempt by fifteen members of the Farm Tenants' Union to release four members of the union held in jail there. The men were arrested when their night riding expedition was intercepted by Deputy Sheriff Stevens, of Stevenson.

The unionists, who later made the assault on the jail and opened fire on the jail guard, were met by the citizens, who had been warned, and all but five, who were captured and placed under arrest, were put to flight. They came from the Fabius settlement, supposed headquarters of the night riders, and officers announced that they would organize a posse today to invade the district.

Columbia Treaty Reported Out

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—The Columbia treaty was reported formally to the senate today by the foreign relations committee, but without announcement as to plans for its consideration.

MAY RESTRICT ARMAMENT

TOKIO—Meeting of business men decided to cable President Harding and Senator Borah urging them to use their influence to restrict armament.

CAR HITS AUTO, ONE KILLED

CLEVELAND—Mrs. Tony Scerjan killed and her husband and three children injured, when street car hit automobile.

Kill Mayor Of Limerick In His Home

DUBLIN, March 7.—(By the Associated Press)—George Clancy, mayor of Limerick, was shot and killed at his home in that city early this morning, and his wife was seriously wounded. At about the same time, Michael O'Callaghan, former mayor of the city, was also killed at his residence.

Mayor Clancy and his wife were in a critical condition. Former Mayor O'Callaghan was dying when doctors summoned by the police, arrived at the house.

BELFAST, March 7.—Bands of men shot George Clancy, mayor of Limerick, and Michael O'Callaghan, a former mayor of that city, in cold blood while they were lying in their beds.

Mrs. Clancy, while endeavoring to protect her husband, was shot in one of her arms.

Limerick is intensely excited over the shootings, which are popularly interpreted as reprisals for the assassination of Brigadier General Cumming, who was killed at Clonbanin on Saturday.

Harding With One Bold Stroke Took Senate Back To "Normalcy"

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Congress at last has returned to the normalcy which Harding meant to be taken literally when he said that during his administration it would be his purpose to "sit down" with the committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives to work out agreements for the expiation of the public business.

Washington still was gasping today over the friendly audacity of Mr. Harding in attempting an executive session of the Senate a few minutes after he had taken the oath of office. Woodrow Wilson thought he was going to the extreme limit of executive privilege in formally addressing the Congress in public joint session. Mr. Harding must be admitted, knows Congress better.

Back to Normalcy with a Vengeance

He knows that public appearances of the President in House or Senate may have a telling psychological effect upon the people at large but such appearances generally have left Senators and Representatives more or less cold. Mr. Harding does not feel that real co-operation with Congress grows out of formal speeches. It goes much deeper. The big work of Congress is in the committees. These committees

NEW YORK, March 7.—The Lehigh and Wilkes Barre Coal Company today declared a special cash dividend of 150 percent on its $9,210,000 stock outstanding.

Harding Invites Congress Leaders To Dinner Tonight

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Putting into practice his policy of personal consultation with leaders in congress, President Harding will talk over numerous policies of the administration at a white House dinner tonight, at which the ranking Republicans of the senate and house will be present.

The first cabinet meeting of the administration was called today for eleven o'clock tomorrow. Vice President Coolidge was asked to attend.

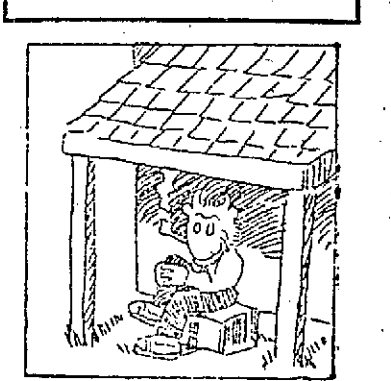

Coolidge gave notice that he would accept the invitation.

Among those invited are: Representatives Longworth and Fess, of Ohio.

It was said the cabinet session would be of a general character and that the president would take up in particular the question of relations

"Bits of Broadway"

Up to the Minute Dances and Songs
Now Ready on Phonograph
Re-Creations

Seven fox trots, a waltz, and two songs comprise the latest contribution of the Edison Company to the phonograph world. They are but off the griddle so to speak, from Broadway to the smallest town of the country. Some of them are the best dance numbers produced in months.

Foremost among the fox trots, perhaps, are "Humming," played by Orlando's Orchestra, and "Talestema," given by the Green Bros. Novelty Band. Keeping pace with these are "Bright Eyes," also performed by Orlando's organization, and "Broadway Rose," rendered by Harry Baderman's Jazz Orchestra. Italianman presents "Home Again Blues," too, and the Green Bros. show their genius for dance music in "Steep Hollow," a waltz of the dreamy sort.

The many fans for Max Fells' Delta Trolly Orchestra will be glad to know that it has Re-Created "Tossie," a fox trot which withstands repetition. "Carasses," another fox trot, is linked with "Tossie" on the same Re-Creation, and is performed by Lezberg's Riverside Orchestra.

"Blues" songs are multiplied over night, it would seem, but "I've Got the Blues For My Kentucky Home," as sung by the Premier Quartet, is the kind that only comes once in a "blue moon." Rounding out these "Bits of Broadway" is a song sung by the entertaining Al Bernard, entitled "Tim-buctoo," and it is funny enough to make a stone image crack a smile.

Lawyer Passes Away
HUNTINGTON, March 7.—George J. McComas, 58, lawyer, prominent in Cabell county for many years, died at nine o'clock Sunday night at the Huntington General hospital.

It had been feared for several days he could not survive a stroke of paralysis which seized him.

Holiday Over; Legislature To Return To Work
COLUMBUS, O., March 7.—Having adjourned last week in honor of the inauguration of President Warren G. Harding, the Ohio general assembly was to get back to work today. The house was to go into session this evening, while the senate will get under way again tomorrow morning.

Both branches of the assembly have heavy calendars facing them on their return. The house committee on reorganization is to begin its work on the administrative reorganization bill this week and Chairman Dunn has indicated that hearings will be started at once.

Heavy opposition is anticipated from many sources of the antagonism and the committee will give opportunities for each group to be heard.

The proposed reorganization code, the election reorganization, and the many-quilted taxation problem all remain to be disposed of in some way, and assembly leaders are not so sanguine of an early adjournment as they were.

The governor's special committee of laymen, drafted to work out a program of permanent taxation reorganization, was to get back into the business today and leaders of various groups indicate that they hope to arrive at some compromise agreement soon.

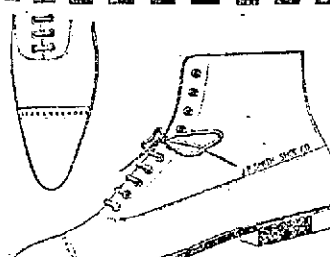

Legislators who made the trip to Washington to witness the inauguration have returned to the capital, as has Governor Davis and other state officials.

Ohio Farmers' Quota Half Million Bushels
COLUMBUS, O., March 7.—Ohio farmers will be asked to contribute half million bushels of the 3,500,000 bushels of corn pledged by the United States for famine-stricken portions of Europe and the Far East. It was announced by Farm Bureau Federation representatives on their return here from a conference in Chicago. A central receiving station will be established in Ohio to which various counties will forward their quotas which will be apportioned by Farm Bureau officials. Various railroads have promised free transportation for the corn from the interior to an Atlantic port.

Ideal ARCOLA Heating Outfits

"My Dream of Comfort came true—"

"Since having your system installed, I am using no more coal to heat the entire house than I formerly used in one stove, or in one grate, and besides had a cold house. Now—my house is even temperature from the front to the back, and it is a genuine pleasure to return from the theatre and find the house in an even temperature."

"I am so well pleased with my ARCOLA that I hope you sell every man in (—) that needs one, and you are at liberty to use this letter in any manner you see fit. If the people have any doubt whatever as to the genuineness of this letter, they may call at my residence, and we will take pleasure in showing them the plant. Our dream of comfort came true."

—Unsolicited praise from an ARCOLA owner—name on request.

Comfort for All

You, too, may enjoy the comfort, luxury and protection of Hot Water Heating. The low price of IDEAL-ARCOLA Outfits makes them available for the smallest homes. Extravagant to be without them.

Hard or Soft Coal

Many an owner is using less coal to heat the entire home than was formerly required to heat one or two rooms (see above letter). The cost of installation is moderate. Outlasts the building.

How It Works

The ARCOLA is especially designed for the small home. It may be placed in any room with a chimney connection; it circulates hot water through small pipes to AMERICAN Radiators, evenly warming all rooms. Thousands of families now enjoy the luxury of this economical hot water heat—equal in comfort to the First Mansion in the land.

More Light On New Testament

By John Chllins Jackson

What we call the canon of the New Testament was a gradual growth, formed tentatively by the exercise of enlightened reason. It required three centuries for the early scattered Christian churches to come to a final conclusion as to what religious books out of the multitude of their time should be accepted as authoritative. Of our twenty-seven finally selected several, at different times were in, and then outside again, of the number regarded as divinely inspired. The first formal and official attempt through a church council to decide which books should be received as authoritative was held at Laodicea, in the year 363 A.D. Even this council rejected the book of Revelation; or the Apocalypse, which is still the happy hunting ground of the various schools of Millennialists. Over forty years more were required to reach an agreement on the 27 books which we now have. Two councils at Carthage, Africa, one in 397 A.D., the other 419 A.D., struggled with the problem; and the latter at last decided on the New Testament books as we now have them, and prohibited the use of all others. It was not by any supernatural or miraculous process that they were chosen. God has endowed man with reason and a moral consciousness and it is through these divine faculties that He speaks to us, and not by the vagaries of fancy, or by inherited impressions. While we sincerely believe in the main the general church has been providentially directed to the right books out of the many of their time claiming to be sacred, it has been by the Holy Spirit's guidance of man through our ordinary channels of discerning the truth.

The dates and authorship of many of these 27 books are still largely matters of conjecture. Those who could authoritatively have given us these facts thought such data of only incidental importance. They could not foresee the momentous uses to which their writings would be put in the remote future. The immediate followers of our Lord were not deeply concerned about writing Him into books. They themselves had seen and heard Him, and it was their calling to go about and tell others what He said and did. They had His promise that in this work the Holy Spirit would guide them into all the truth, and bring to their remembrance the words which Jesus had spoken. The bond of unity in the first churches was not a written book or books, but the fellowship and communion of the Holy Spirit.

This continued so throughout the first century. Oral tradition was the method of instruction. Whatever was written during this time was occasional, fragmentary and of only casual rank with tradition. St. Paul, in his second letter to the church at Thessalonica, exhorts the brethren there to "stand fast, and hold the traditions which you were taught, whether by word, or by epistle of ours." (2 Thess. 3:15). Again he commands them, "withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which they received from us." (2 Thess. 3:6). The epistle was then considered only incidental; the main body of instruction was oral, and traditional. And in the opening of the second century, the so-called Apostolic Fathers, give us many quotations in their writings, from our Lord's words, which are not found in the Gospels. Paul himself quotes from tradition, or from some written source unknown to us, when he says: "Remember the words

Foley's Honey and Tar undisputedly the best known and most successful cough medicine on the market. It's wholesome and safe; no better remedy known.

John Yagene, Elberton, Ga., writes this: "I took a mild cold and coughed night and day. My throat felt as though the skin had been torn out. I used Foley's Honey and Tar. My condition began to improve at once and in a few days I was as well as ever."

The Fisher and Streich Pharmacy

of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' What a loss to the world it would have been never to have recovered this precious saying! I cannot think that Emerson is right, when he says:

One accent of the Holy Ghost. The heedless world has never lost. I fear we have lost myriads of them. In his letter to the church at Colosse, Paul says in closing: "And when this epistle hath been read among you, cause that it be read also to the church of the Laodiceans; and that ye read also the epistle from Laodicea." (Col. 4:16). Doubtless the injunction was obeyed, and the epistle to the Laodiceans was read by the church at Colosse; but it never was by us. It was preserved in the manuscript of the Vulgate in the West, into the Middle Ages, but failed to find the permanency of its sister letter to the Colossians. Like others of St. Paul's letters it is lost to the world, though doubtless as truly inspired as those that survived.

In 1 Cor. 5:3, Paul incidentally refers to another letter which he had written to that church, as he does also, in 2 Cor. 7:8.—making three epistles in all to the Corinthians, of which we have but two. Also in Philippians 2:1, he refers to a former letter he had written that church, which is now unknown. Let us be the more thankful for what has been preserved to our time and peruse and practice them the more diligently for that reason.

PLANT RESUMES

IRONTON, March 7.—It will be welcome news to learn that the Dayton Malleable Co. plant started two of the three furnaces in its old department Monday morning and there is splendid prospects for a resumption of the plant in full and the ultimate operation of the new department. It is also stated that the Sunset-Solway company has appropriated over $50,000 for repairs to the local solway plant.

RIVER NEWS

The Ohio River continued to rise slowly in the Portsmouth district Monday morning when stage of 31.3 was recorded on the Madison street gauge. Because of heavy freight traffic the Greenwood entrance to Cincinnati did not reach here until 11 a. m. Monday being five hours behind her schedule. The Chris Greene bound for Huntington is due here at 8 a. m. Tuesday and will pass down on the return trip at 11 p. m.

It is easy to apply and so nearly flesh colored it can be used on exposed surfaces without attracting undue attention. Send for a sample. Dept. 2-S, RESINOL, Baltimore, Md.

PIKETON NEWS

The monthly Church Day meeting was held at the Methodist church Thursday, March 3rd. These meetings are held jointly by the Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, the day being divided between the two societies. The morning session, which was devoted to the Ladies' Aid Society, began at 10:30 and lasted until noon, most of the time being taken up by reports and discussion of the reading contest, which is being held by the society. The society, which is composed of about seventy members, is divided into groups with a captain at the head of each group. The contest will close March 25th, and the group having the greatest number of points will be declared winner. The points being determined by the number of books and pamphlets on Stewardship, read by each group.

A report of the Traveling Basket committee was given, and it was found that $17.75 was collected by the basket Feb. 23 and 24. The meeting adjourned at twelve o'clock, and tables were spread for dinner, of which both societies partook, all having brought well filled baskets for the occasion.

The meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, was called to order at one o'clock, and after a half hour business session the society had the pleasure of listening to a very interesting and instructive lecture on "Foreign Missions," by Mrs. W. S. Fisher of Waverly. Five new members were taken into the society at this meeting. The members of the societies who bring children to the meetings are relieved of their care by the younger members, who care for the children at the parlance. This division of the societies is under the supervision of Miss Margaret Markham. The next Church Day meeting will be held April 7th.

L. E. Proctor, representative of the Watts Bitter Co., Huntington, was a business visitor here Saturday. Miss Ruth Middleton spent Saturday and Sunday at Chillicothe. Russell Talbot and G. W. Hittman motored to Waverly Friday to attend Masonic lodge.

Good Example.

Aunt Polly was milking in the cow lot, and her politically excited son found her there. "Maw, you're a Democrat, ain't you?" he asked. She made no answer, but he persisted: "Say, maw, ain't you a good Democrat?" Finally she said, emphatically: "I ain't nothin'. I'm a woman milkin' a cow. You go in the house and shut up!"

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the Rheumatisms in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism. Medical scientists differ as to the causes of every form of rheumatism but agree that when caused by a tiny disease germ, the only effective method of treatment is to attack the disease at its source, and cleanse the blood of its cause. A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infect the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routes them entirely out of the circulation. This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine. S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, S20 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I have been a reader of your interesting column for a number of years, ever since it was started and must say that your answers and advice are great.

I would like to know what you and your readers and especially the Chamber of Commerce of Portsmouth think of the Portsmouth Telephone Co., the way they treat the people in your neighboring towns across the river. Now Dolly, they have bought out the Eastern telephone company and charge $2.00 a month for phone service in advance and have about 8 phones on one line and won't ever give us the right to be in the directory in Portsmouth. Look in the new book and see, and if you have a phone, write to call his residence from Portsmouth he is compelled to pay extra toll. Now Dolly do you and the other good people of Portsmouth think it is a wise plan for them to treat us in such a manner? It seems to me that it would be beneficial for us to have the phone service as we pay for it. Portsmouth merchants to us as there is a lot of goods sold to Kentuckians and a great many of us are getting the mail order habit. I should think that the business men of Portsmouth would demand that they have free connection with us inasmuch as we pay $2.00 a month. We are growing and Portsmouth should help us all they can for we buy nearly all of our goods except moonshine from her and some day she is going to call on us to demand for a bridge and we will be right on the job when she does. Stop knocking and let's boost and help each other even if the other fellow is from Kentucky he can't help it.

TELL E. P. PHONE.

Miss Wise—If the party who wrote you in Wednesday's column, and signed herself, Many Thanks, will call or write to the man she wrote about, and who still thinks the world and all of her, she will learn some good news of interest to us both, and this man is a dear friend to her, and is always thinking of her, she ought to write or call at once, as absence makes the heart grow fonder, and the world seems so lonesome without her.

MANY THANKS.

Friend Fred—If you would stop to consider in what position your letter would place "Miss Alma" and me, you wouldn't wonder that I couldn't publish it. She made a mistake in doing what she did and has probably realized it before this. Think it over. It would be different if you and she were acquainted.

COLDS

"Pape's Cold Compound" is Quickest Relief Known

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks any cold right up.

The very first dose opens clogged nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's.

IN BED EIGHT MONTHS

Cause—Change of Life. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Got Me Up

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did and in a short time felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good."

—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tennessee.

Women from forty-five to fifty years of age should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, palpitation of the heart, smothering or fainting spells, or spots before the eyes, and prepare their system for this perfectly natural change by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped many, many women through this trying period, just as it did Mrs. Keller.

Miss Carrie Sowers of Lincoln street returned home today from Dayton, where she attended a meeting of the W. W. G. of the Baptist church. Arrangements were made for the assembly to be held at Granville in the near future. Miss Sowers represented the Kendall Avenue Baptist church.

Only The Women Can Clean Up City, Says Judge

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—Women were held up as the "saving grace" in cleaning up the city by Judge Willis Vickery, of the court of appeals, in an address here last night.

Judge Vickery criticized the municipal court, the manner in which judges are selected here, the judges themselves and the affiliations of judges with political machines.

Only the women, the judge declared, can clean up the city, adding that "no one who has followed the career of the present woman on the bench (Common Pleas Judge Florence E. Allen) can but be proud of her record."

Charges that county judges are loafing on the job instead of hearing cases were made by Judge Vickery.

The municipal court of Cleveland was branded as "a mistake" by the judge.

He declared that the present method of selecting judges in the county tends to fill the bench with men that "veer with every wind that blows."

BILLY WALKER

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

The storm came up quickly, and soon vivid flashes of lightning were seen, followed by rolling, crashing thunder, and the meeting broke up without the usual dismissal, for everyone was in a hurry to look for a place of shelter.

Nannie ran forward to under the shelter of the wide-spreading branches of the elm, but Billy, who was more weather-wise, called to her to come away unless she wanted to get struck by lightning, as that high tree would make a good target for it.

"Oh, where shall we go?" bleated Nannie. "I am so frightened."

"And well you may be, for this promises to be a regular cyclone fresh from Kansas, where they have such destructive ones," answered Billy.

"Billy! Some one threw a handful of stones at me. I felt them all over. Who do you suppose is out in all this storm and darkness? There go some more against the barn. I hear them striking the boards."

"You little goose! It is hail-stones that are hitting you in the dark. Come we must run for the sheds when the next flash of lightning comes to light things up so we can see where we are going."

"Oh, Billy, let's feel our way. I am so frightened and these stones hurt so, for they are as large as hens' eggs. Ouch! ouch! ouch!" cried Nannie.

And at that moment a flash of lightning revealed to them what she had run against. It was the hay wagon. They found they had been walking in a circle in the darkness, the way people generally do when they are lost. By this time the storm had broken itself into a hurricane, and streamers of pink, green and yellow lightning were shooting across the sky in rapid succession, followed by a deluge of rain and a howling wind.

The wind was doing all the damage it could, for it caught every open door and gate on the place, slammed them shut and then wrenched them open, then slammed them shut again with renewed violence; the hail ried with it by breaking nearly every pane of glass in the hot-house windows, and not satisfied with that, went on through and with the falling glass, crushed the young tomato plants down to the roots. Then it broke all the windows in the stable, and the rain could drench the floor while the people in the house thought the wind was going to blow the house away. It raked so. Presently a more vivid, blinding flash of lightning was seen than had been witnessed before, and this was followed by the roar of thunder that sounded like five hundred cannon going off at once, and it sounded directly overhead. "That must have struck something near here," said Billy. "It sounded so near."

As he spoke, he saw half a tall pine that stood beside one of the barns split and fall asunder. It had been struck by the last vivid flash. After this, Nannie crawled under the bed of straw in their shed and shut her eyes, expecting every minute to be struck herself.

The animals in the stable were all huddled together in groups for mutual protection and had turned their backs to the wind as well as they could. In this way they could best withstand the fury of the storm, for at the first severe gust of wind the stable door had blown shut and they were left out in the rain. The door was usually propped open, so in case of storm they could go in for shelter, but this wind had blown the prop away over the top of the straw stack and then the door had banged shut, so there was no way of reaching their accustomed shelter.

(Tomorrow the storm continues.)

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

GWENDA DANCES

"The curtain rose slowly on a packed house. The applause had caused the hearts of all behind the scenes to beat with delight. It had been a wonderful, warm reception, such a reception as only New York can give to its artists when it fully appreciates each measure that they have to offer. Vas-skill, all smiles and excitement, was busy shouting out some directions to the stage-hands, and admonishing his chorus to be ready in time for their next number, when Gwenda, ready for her solo, burst upon his vision.

"'Lovely—perfect—beyond words,' were his words to her as she appeared. 'Now go in and live up to all my expectations of you, my dear,' he cautioned her as the bell sounded, and Gwenda, poised and breathless, knew that her hour was at hand.

After that she remembered nothing. All passed like a dream. The dance, the hushed attention of the audience, which she held from start to finish, and then, the long, long soul-suffering applause! Again and again it called for the finished and delighted girl, and again and again she came out and bowed and blew kisses of gratitude to each and every member of the house. Although she was new to them, they gave her her full quota of plaudits, and finally she was lifted half fainting from the stage into the wings by Vassill, himself, who was borne with joy at her success.

"Come, away with you all to your rooms and let the girl get a rest by herself," he told the choruses as he led Gwenda to her dressing room and placed her in a comfortable chair.

"You see I told you the truth, my dear," he said as the door closed upon them, and she, still with her spirit only half in the room, smiled dreamily at him and his words.

"It was all so simple," she gasped. "I felt no fear from the moment that I went on the stage until I came off. And I have been worrying about things so, for days and days. I was, right up until the time I went on."

"You were born for the stage, Gwenda, no doubt about it; but you were born to be fashioned by me, only. Never forget that. I alone can make your name ring down the halls of fame. I only can see to it that you are properly advertised throughout the world, the world that so rightly belongs to you

COOPER BROTHERS'

$30,000 GENERAL STOCK

Goes to the bargain block!

Cooper Bros., leading merchants in this section for more than 12 years, employ the greatest selling organization in the world to close out one-half of their stock in ten days. Do not confuse this sale with ordinary sales. Nothing one-half so important or tremendous has ever been attempted in the history of New Boston. Come, let your own eyes be the judge of this history making event. Never have you witnessed anything like what we offer during the next 10 days.

I'm the Man

I have a vital message for you! I came over 1000 miles at the call of Cooper Bros. to give you a sale of such tremendous importance as to create excitement throughout the whole country. "Come," said Mr. Cooper, "you are chosen from the greatest selling organization in the world as the man best suited for our purpose. You say you can sell half of this stock in ten days and we believe you at your word. GO TO IT, the store is yours, now ransack every corner, every shelf, every box—go upstairs—down in the basement—everywhere—find what the people want—then SMASH SLASH CRASH PRICES AS THEY HAVE NEVER BEEN BEFORE. We expect to take a huge loss but we are determined that half of this stock must go and if low prices will sell it we will back you to the hilt. Give our customers a sale that will live in their minds for years to come."

I have taken these men at their word and I will do just what they want done. Sell it I must. My reputation and the reputation of my firm is at stake. WATCH ME DO IT. COSE.

Make your dollar do the work of two---Come!

Harding Invites

(Continued from page one) with Costa Rican and Panamanian and the program of the extra session of congress. Information and advice received at the dinner tonight is expected to be laid before the cabinet by Mr. Harding and a definite decision on a date for calling congress into session may follow.

No definite schedule of cabinet meetings has yet been agreed upon. In the Wilson administration they were held ordinarily on Tuesday, but the impression is that Mr. Harding may desire to have a round table discussion with his advisers more often than once a week.

The question of the special session of congress was discussed by the president today with Senator Underwood, of Alabama, the Democratic leader of the senate, who is understood to have urged that a date some time in the first half of April be selected. After his talk with Mr. Harding the Alabama senator indicated that a date probably would be announced tomorrow.

Speaker Gillett, Representatives Moulton, Fordner, Green and Longworth expect to see President Harding probably tomorrow to discuss tariff legislation which will be taken up early in the special session.

Harding With One Bold Stroke

(Continued from page one) are all powerful, for the most part they make or break legislation. So President Harding is going to work with the committee and with the Senate in executive session when necessary.

He gave a very striking earnest of his purpose by taking his cabinet appointments direct to the Senate floor, reading them off to the Senate behind closed doors and asking for immediate consideration which he received. By this single stroke Mr. Harding took Congress back to normalcy with a vengeance. In one stride he went back to the normalcy of Washington and Jefferson in the early days of the Republic when the three branches of the Government had not been so strictly separated as during the last one hundred years.

Lack of the President's first and most unexpected step was an intention to challenge right at the outset of his administration the friendly cooperation of his former colleagues. Mr. Harding had told these colleagues that he wanted to work with them in the closest possible harmony. It was distinctly up to the Senate to prove that it reciprocated these friendly feelings and would do its share to bring the public business back to a sane and normal basis.

Mr. Harding furthermore had heard there was to be a row in the Senate over the nomination of Herbert Hoover to be Secretary of Commerce and that possibly one or two other prospective members of his cabinet might be held up temporarily as a sort of mild protest over the appointments by two or three Senators. Some of Mr. Hoover's published reports that Senator William Johnson, of California, implacable foe of Hoover, who dared to oppose him in the California primaries last spring when the Republican Presidential nomination was at stake, would ask him the nomination he not asked upon until he could have time to prepare a case against the former Food Administrator. These same reports had said that Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who fought Mr. Hoover openly and vigorously from the moment he assumed direction of the food administration during the war, would aid and abet Senator Johnson in throwing a monkey-wrench into the cabinet drive.

Harding Prepared for a Row

If there was to be a row, President Harding wanted the Senate to know exactly where he stood. He had selected his cabinet with the greatest possible care and had reached decisions as to each member of it only after weighing the pros and cons with his friends. He argued, for a particular reason, the presence of each man on the cabinet slate. So without disclosing his intention to even the most intimate of his friends he asked the Senate to meet him in executive session and calmly waited in the President's room until a quorum could be assembled. Mr. Harding then told the Senators plainly that he wanted to go to work. He felt the Government had been at a standstill long enough. To work efficiently Mr. Harding said it was necessary to have a complete cabinet about him. This cabinet had been selected and Mr. Harding added that he felt dependent upon each member of it. Senators who have been in the public service for many years could scarcely believe their eyes when Mr. Harding, entirely at ease, did the unprecedented thing of taking a piece of paper from his pocket and reading to the Senate the names of his cabinet. This personal act of nomination, coupled as it was with a plea for immediate and favorable consideration, swept the Senate off its feet and in less time than it takes to tell it the entire cabinet slate was ratified. Senators Johnson and Reed so uncomplacingly were absent from the startling ceremony.

Accordingly today Mr. Harding had the Republican Administration in working order, with all the Democratic heads of departments out of office and gone. Never was a transition of the National Government so quickly effected.

Meantime the Capital is expected to see a great deal of Warren G. Harding during the next four years.

Thrill That Comes Once In A Life-Time Given To Washington By Harding

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The thrill that comes once in the lives of a chosen few in America—waking up in the historic atmosphere of the White House—seemed reflected in the beaming faces of thousands who stood in the sunlight of a veritable Spring morning, peering through the glass doors of the executive mansion, hoping to catch a glimpse of the new chief magistrate and the First Lady of the Land.

White House Again Open
For the first time since the clouded days of the war, the gates had been thrown open and men, women and children walked freely again in the length of the White House, lingering through the porticoes of old and felt closer to the distinguished occupants of the executive mansion, closer than ever before. That phase of the new administration which prompted President and Mrs. Warren Harding to throw open the gates seemed to fill the air with a spirit of comradeship which the people of Washington have not felt in many a day. It was not that the Wilsons meant to be distant. The White House grounds were always open during the first four years and were closed as a precaution in the days when bomb-throwing and incendiarism destroyed many a factory in America and even threatened the Capitol itself.

When Mr. Wilson came back from Europe, the grounds were kept closed because of his breakdown in health and the desire to keep curious eyes from the wheel chair which gave its distinguished invalid intermittent outings. The President and Mrs. Harding had their kindfolk for breakfast at the White House, inspecting its many historic rooms and decorations, its many luxuries and conveniences, was as natural as it was American. There was no disguising the pleasure that was written in the joyful countenance of Mrs. Harding, who, from the start, has wondered if she were dreaming or if it were really true that she would occupy the White House. She has always told her friends that she was afraid something would happen—something would interrupt it—was a woman's superstition which was happily dispelled today as she found herself in the sacred precincts where so many women have lingered and will always long to be there to wield the scepter of social power which goes with the exalted position of the First Lady of the Land.

Mrs. Harding, however, is not to be mistaken for the type of woman who having reached an eminence comes looking down on her former friends and associates. Rather, she is the woman who will always try to make her friends feel that being in the White House cannot and will not change her. If she has any ambition, it is to prove to her friends that she is still Florence Harding as they knew her in the social circle of the Senate and still the companionable woman whom the folks back in Marion learned to love and admire.

When you want to know what Christ's answer said the speaker, 'you read Mrs. Deane's new story, 'The Pharisee'."

you read from the writings of Russia when you want to know what Christianity is, why not go to the ultimate final source—why not go to the author himself—Jesus Christ?

One word from the Christ and positions were changed—the obscure unknown; young man and the Master of Israel—as are all positions who one stands in the presence of Jesus. "You must be born again."—He said. The speaker pointed out that "I cannot a man be born again he is blind—and he cannot enter the kingdom of God." Revival at Trinity Church

"Oh, God, we thank thee for the life giving power of song," was the prayer that rose from the hearts of the great congregation, filling the auditorium of Trinity M. E. church last night as we once again heard the old song of Methodism that never grows old.

It marked the ushering in of the special meetings in which this church will be engaged during the next two weeks of the Lenten season, culminating with Easter Sunday.

Preparations have been going on for some time for these meetings, and the meetings of the first day are a Welcome guests of the people and congregations were the Columbia Male Chorus. This company of young men has been formed from the choirs of the various Methodist churches and those who have never heard them sing do not know what a treat there is in store for them.

After the singing of Gipsy Smith's favorite hymn led by Charles Bennett, leader of marked ability, and the chorus choir which filled not only the choir loft but the platform as well.

The words of the text were spoken by the world's redeemer in explanation of an unusual incident. Jesus had noticed a man up in a tree, as he entered the village, a man represented to be the worst scamp in the community, and he had called him to come down, saying, "Today I must abide in your house."

The great difference between the Christian religion and the other religions of the world, is the difference in their ideal about God. Jesus sent forth God as a seeking God; as a God that comes down to man here. In the first book of the Old Testament we have a picture of God looking for man that was created and crying, "Where art thou?"

In the last book of the New Testament we have a man with a scarred hand standing at the door and as he knocks saying, "If any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me."

Jesus said "I have come down from Heaven." People did not understand his words. They began to accuse him to question Him, and he told them, "I am come to seek and to save that which was lost."

When the people began to build the what man was about, and when I found them in this undertaking I brought confusion among them. We have a picture of God coming down. Who can tell what will happen when God comes down among men? He lifts us up above our sufferings and bereavements. Jesus said he was giving me the true picture of God. He said "what man of you if he have an hundred sheep and when night time comes and one is missing will he not leave the ninety and nine and go out after the which is lost?" The shepherd is God.

night of the meetings, which will be held at 7:30. Prayer meeting every afternoon at the church at 2:00 o'clock. "The music" is a great feature of the meetings, the great chorus choir being augmented with one of the church's many talented pianists and Miss Laura Whille's violin.

Revival Continues At Berean Baptist Chrch

The membership of the Berean Baptist church is very busy these days, as a perpetual revival spirit has the church in its grip.

There were five conversions last week, another one yesterday. Five were baptized in the Ohio river yesterday afternoon. Twenty-one new members received the right hand of fellowship during the day. There has been a total of 81 new members added to the church during the last 30 days and others coming in continually.

This week's schedule follows:

Monday—Prayer meeting at the home of Arthur Brock at 7 p. m.

Tuesday—Preaching on Hastings'

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—Trading on the stock exchange at the outset of today's session pointed to a continuance of last week's listless and irregular market, but dealings became more active and the undertone strengthened to a pronounced extent within the first half hour. Oils, steels and motors were the objects of bullish attention. Atlantic Gulf, Royal Dutch, Mexican Petroleum and General Asphalt rising 1 to 1½ points. Baldwin Locomotive, Bethlehem Steel, Steel Foundries, Chandler, Studebaker and Otis Elevator comprised the other firm to strong issues. Exchanged on London was moderately higher, despite adverse

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Mar. 7.—Rains southwest, especially in Kansas, where there was particular need of moisture, led to lower prices today for wheat. Country offerings, however, remained light and European political news was disturbing to the bears. As a result, sellers became less numerous after the initial trading and the market rallied. Opening prices which ranged ¼ to 1½c lower with March 1.70 and May 1.61 to 1.61½, were followed by moderate further setbacks and then by upturns to somewhat above the range at the start.

Corn swayed with wheat. There was a good demand from the seaboard. After opening unchanged to ½c lower, including May at 71 to 71½, the market sagged a little further and then rallied to about Saturday's finish.

Oats paralleled the action of other cereals, starting a shade to ¾c off, May 48, and weakened a trifle more previous to taking the upgrade.

Lower quotations on hogs had a depressing effect on provisions.

The close was heavy, 2½c to 3½c net lower with March 1.67½ and May 1.59 to 1.59½.

Allies Will Invade Germany

Dr. Simons responded briefly. "If I am expected to make a short statement in reply, may I ask permission to retire with the members of my delegation for a short deliberation?" he asked.

"Yes, certainly," replied Mr. Lloyd George. "How long do you want?"

"About a quarter of an hour," said Dr. Simons.

The Germans then withdrew from the conference.

It was just before 6 o'clock when the German representatives left the conference chamber. When the session was resumed shortly afterward, Dr. Simons said the Germans requested a short delay to enable them to communicate with the German cabinet in Berlin. This request, however, was refused.

LONDON, Mar. 7.—(By the Associated Press).—New German proposals were submitted to the supreme allied council here this morning before the reparations conference opened.

Dr. Walter S. Simons, head of the German delegation, told the allies the Germans rejected the proposals formulated at Paris and had decided to revert to the idea of a provisional arrangement they had prepared. This would call for the payment of fixed annuities for the first five years and would give the equivalent of the twelve per cent tax on German exports.

The German proposition was made conditional upon the plebiscite to be held in upper Silesia being decided in favor of Germany and on the removal of all commercial restrictions.

"If we have to make proposals covering the total reparations we will have to ask for a week's adjournment to consult Berlin," said Dr. Simons in making his proposition.

Dr. Simons in continuing his statement to the conference, said he had purposely avoided references to the question of responsibility for the war because he considered such a discussion would only make a settlement more difficult. He declared neither the treaty of Versailles nor the carrying out of the allied penalties could determine the question of war guilt.

"History only can fix the responsibility for the war," said the German foreign minister.

The war, he contended, was too recent an occurrence to be judged clearly at this time.

The conference between the heads of the allied governments and representatives of the German government, began at noon today for discussion of the reparations question, and they took an adjournment at 1:30 o'clock until 4:30 p. m.

In presenting his proposals the German foreign minister expressed agreement with Mr. Lloyd George that the party which had been condemned by the peace treaty must pay.

The Germans, he pointed out, had made proposals to restore the devastated area of France, but they had been received with doubt.

Dr. Simons deplored the allied disposition to ignore the payments already made by the Germans which they contended should be applied to the reparations account and the allied persistence in the view that Germany was acting in bad faith. He discussed at length the subject of taxation in Germany and in the allied countries, seeking to disprove the statement made by the British premier in his speech of last Thursday that Germany's taxes were lower than those of the allies.

Dr. Simons maintained that the taxes should be calculated on a per capita, taking into account the income per capita. He quoted statistics to prove that on the basis of such calculation the Germans were more heavily taxed than the English. He declared that even the allies had admitted that further direct taxation in Germany was impossible. After asking Dr. Simons a number of questions, Mr. Lloyd George replied: "I am afraid I must tell Dr. Simons that there is no doubt as to the answer which the allies must be forced to give. I think it desirable in view of the great gravity of the decision that we should give a reasoned reply to his carefully prepared, clear statement. The interval will also enable us to

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Ann Nagel
A sweet soul passed into the heavenly home when the spirit of Mrs. Mary Ann Nagel took flight at 12:15 Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Nagel, who was eighty-three years old, had been ill with complications for a number of years, but was hopeful to the last. She had been able to be up and about the house until three weeks ago, when she took a decided change for the worse. Relatives were called to her bedside and everything possible was done to allay her suffering. Mrs. Nagel rallied and was apparently much better, although she was not able to leave her bed, lingering until her Master called her to join those of her loved ones who had gone before. In the death of Mrs. Nagel, the city loses one of its oldest residents. Her passing will be deeply mourned by many who have known and loved her.

Mary Ann Nagel was born January 24, 1838, in Carroll county, the daughter of Benjamin and Mary Riegel. At the age of 10 years she moved with her parents to Jackson county, where she lived until her marriage on October 22, 1857, to Henry W. Nagel. Mr. and Mrs. Nagel came to Portsmouth and went to housekeeping on lower Fifth street, where they lived for a time. In 1870 they moved to 916 Waller street. Four children blessed their union, William E., deceased; Edward A., of Norwood; Emma F. Kehrer, wife of Gus Kehrer, at home, and Charles H. of this city. On February 10, 1913, Mr. Nagel passed beyond the earthly gates. Mrs. Nagel had been taken care of and lovingly administered to in all her late illnesses by her devoted daughter, Mrs. Gus Kehrer, who has done everything an earthly hand could do. Mrs. Nagel leaves besides her three children, four grandchildren: Arthur H., Norwood; William H., Chicago; Clarence E., Hyde Park, Cincinnati; Mrs. Ethel Schusky of this city; three great grandchildren: Grace, William and June Nagel. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Linda Anderson, of College Hill, Cincinnati. Three brothers, Isaac, George and Elias, and two sisters, Rose and Lulu, have preceded Mrs. Nagel to the Great Beyond.

Mrs. Nagel had been a member of the Second Presbyterian church since shortly after the church was organized. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, from the church, in charge of the Rev. George P. Horst, pastor. She will be laid to rest beside her husband in the family lot in Greenlawn.

Vernon Madison Moore
Death at two o'clock Monday afternoon claimed Vernon Madison Moore, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Moore of 1805 Vinton avenue. The child suffered with spasms. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have several other children.

Mrs. W. J. Andris
The West End and Portsmouth lost another well known and well liked resident this Monday morning at 12:20 o'clock when the final summons came to Mrs. Rose Andris, beloved wife of William J. Andris, at her home, 547 Sixth street. She had been ailing for several years but her condition was not considered serious until last Tuesday. Sunday evening her condition took a decided change for the worse and, from that time on she grew steadily weaker until shortly after midnight when the end came.

Mrs. Andris was born March 3, 1878 in this city a daughter of the late Albert and Josephine Knittle, who were residents here for a number of years. Mrs. Andris was the youngest of six children and is the second to pass away. She was married Oct. 14, 1908 to William J. Andris of this city, the marriage taking place here.

The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Andris has been very congenial and she will be greatly missed not only by her bereaved life mate but by her wide circle of friends.

Surviving to mourn the death are the husband William J. Andris, two brothers and two sisters: George Edward Knittle, Miss Myrta Knittle, Mrs. Lucy Knittle Graf of this city and Albert J. Knittle of New Boston.

During her recent serious illness Mrs. Andris was given every attention by her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Andris, trained nurse of Columbus.

Mrs. Andris was connected with the Knittle Daking Company of Second street.

Virtually all her life, Mrs. Andris had been a member of St. Mary's church. Funeral services will be held from the church Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock with Father T. A. Goebel in charge. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

Wool Growers May Join Farm Bureau

Harry D. Hazeltaker, Jr.

A son born to Harry D. Hazeltaker and Bertha Hazeltaker, Wilhelmite Plains, Fourth and Court streets, Friday, died Saturday night about 11 o'clock. The baby was the first-born to Mr. and Mrs. Hazeltaker, who are grief-stricken over the death of their loved one. Burial took place Sunday in Wheelersburg cemetery.

Stimel Jenkins
Relatives received word Saturday afternoon of the death of Stimel Jenkins former Scottdale man who died Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the state hospital at Athens. Complications caused death after several months illness.

Stimel Jenkins was 30 years of age. He entered the hospital about five months ago. Mr. Jenkins was born near Gephards Station but spent most of his life in and near Scottdale. He was employed as woodworker at the Three Manufacturing plant at New Boston before he left for Athens.

The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Levi Jenkins of Scottdale. Three brothers, Cleveland Jenkins and Joseph Jenkins of Scottdale and Frank Jenkins of Mountain and a sister Mrs. James D. Correll of Scottdale, survive.

Mr. Jenkins was a member of the Scottdale Knights of Pythias lodge. The body arrived at Scottdale this morning. Funeral services will be held from the home of the sister, Mrs. J. B. Correll, Tuesday, at 1 p. m., with Rev. Charles Reinhard in charge. Burial will be in Wheelersburg cemetery.

Dempsey Jones
Death Saturday morning at 4:30 o'clock claimed Dempsey Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones of Lyra. The final summons came after a several days illness of appendicitis. The deceased was taken ill only last Monday and gradually grew worse the end coming before relatives realized the seriousness of the boy's illness.

Dempsey Jones was fourteen years of age. He was born and reared at Lyra. The deceased was a son of Will and Sadie Jones who survive. Five sisters, Nellie, Darlene, Florence, the funeral services were held this morning at ten o'clock at the Lyra Baptist church. Burial was in Vernon cemetery.

THE MOVIES

WILLIAM FARNUM
DIRECTION WILLIAM FOX

William Farnum Is The Headline Attraction At The Columbia for Three Days Starting Today in "If I Were King" Said By All Motion Picture Critics To Be His Greatest Achievement In Pictures.

A picture that is said to include William Farnum's greatest screen effort will be shown at the Columbia for three days starting today. It is "If I Were King" from the great stage success and novel by Justin Huntly McCarthy and is a William Fox production. Those who follow the stage will remember that E. H. Sothern created the role of Francis Villon in this play and scored a great success. As soon as the picture was finished Mr. Fox sent a copy of it to England, where it was shown to Justin Huntly McCarthy. The author was enthusiastic. "It is wonderful," he declared. "I never believed motion pictures could make a play so real. And Mr. Farnum is splendid in the part of Villon. During the recitation of the poem 'If I Were King' before Louis, I could almost believe I was hearing Mr. Farnum speak. I extend my congratulations to Mr. Fox, to Mr. Farnum and to Mr. Edwards, who directed the picture. The handling of the crowds is thrilling."

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
in "The Mollusc"

A Real Fight in Which the Only Weapons Used Are Bare Knuckles, Adds to the Many Thrills Included in "The Mollusc". At the Lyric Four Days, Starting Today

During his long career as a screen star Douglas Fairbanks has had many "battles" of a more or less spectacular nature. In some cases he has had just the "villain" to handle and in others he has even gone so far as to "beat up" an entire gang. Without exception all previous fights indulged in by the athletic star have been rehearsed, but not so with the fight in "The Mollusc". "It was the toughest fight I have ever had," smiled the star after the scene was filmed. "I'll say so, too," volunteered Wallace Beery, who was Doug's opponent and likewise the player who shoulders the thankless burden of "villain" in the picture. The big feature of it all was the fact that no member of the company knew that there was such a scene to be taken until a few minutes before it was disclosed what was coming next. In writing the story Fairbanks had planned the fight but did not mention it because he was seeking realism. In referring to the encounter with Beery, the star speaks of the episode as "the womanly battle." That is the amount of territory covered. The first blow is struck while the two men are on the edge of a cliff. They clinch and a moment later fall fifty feet into a tall tree below. Just what the turn of affairs was is better seen than told. But when it was all over both Beery and Fairbanks knew they had been fighting. They came back to the camera stand and between keeps agreed that whether the camera got it all or not, once was sufficient. And the camera did get it all.

When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive, antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing and hastens the process of healing.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel, the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So go strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

That's "The Forbidden Thing." Cross currents of human passion ever playing at cross purposes. The spiritual arrayed against the physical in the race for love. The will of a physician woman fighting for the soul of a man—and on the other hand the sweet, refining influence of another woman battling for the same possession.

Who will win?

"The Forbidden Thing" is a story that ripples with amusement at times and at other times bubbles with human emotions. Also, in its tragedy stalks rampant—and then comes love and happiness and contentment. Somewhere, somehow, its characters are confronted with "the forbidden thing," and somewhere, somehow, the measure is met and defeated.

The little, sensuous, dark-eyed Portuguese maiden weaves her spell about the staidest descendant of the Pilgrim fathers—and causes wreck and ruin to follow in her wake. Romance flows before her and tragedy stalks behind her. She, the physical attraction, reigns for a day—reigns through an awful day—and then comes the light.

It is the light of a better day—the light of other eyes—the light of former years returned. Into this light also shines the joy and happiness of spiritual reawakening—and out of the depths the giant man rises again.

James Kirkwood plays the part of Abel Blake, descendant of the Pilgrim fathers. His characterization is the best thing he has ever done. He portrays the character of the young New Englander with a sympathy, sincerity and a finer touch that is remarkable. In all his moods he is the same lovable character we meet at the beginning of the play.

Prediction. Scotland has a well-developed shale oil industry giving employment to 8,000 men, this industry being 50 years old. Yet Scotland shale is much lower in oil than that found in the mountain state deposits of this country. The United States department of commerce predicts that sooner or later this great source of supply will be utilized to supplant the decreasing production of the oil fields.

The DEVIL TO PAY

From the novel by Frances Nimmo Greene

A ROBERT BRUNTON PRODUCTION

Those who play with Fire Have The Devil to Pay—A Rare Drama, Rich in Action and Suspense is at The Exhibit Theatre. Tonight and Tuesday in "The Devil to Pay," A Pathé Super Feature with Roy Stewart and Robert McKim—Don't Miss It.

You've heard it said, "He must have a long spoon to play with the devil." Indeed, the fiery-eyed monster extracts his due. He cheats, misleads, lies, defrauds and double-crosses. Yet, on the surface, he is smooth-sleek and amiable.

Brent Warren, to quote Hamlet, "had power, like the devil, to assume a pleasing shape."

But, even men in jails—men condemned to die, break the silence of the prison walls and galleries, and the clasp of the grave echoes "No men die!" Brent Warren was haunted, his soul was wrecked; his mind was troubled, because he played with fire and sought to place guilt on the head of another man.

Oh, the hell he endured, and the price he paid! It was a case of devil pay devil, and the human devil paid double.

A drama to stir your mind. Guaranteed entertainment. How could it be otherwise, a Robert Bruntion production, adapted from the novel by Frances Nimmo Greene? See it!

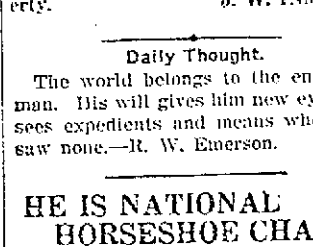

Lincoln Tonight, "Babbling Tongues Or Tongues of Men" Special Five Part Feature. Also Larry Simon Comedy.

Of tonight's program Lincoln patrons will be offered a five part special attraction entitled "Babbling Tongues Or Tongues of Men." Mgr. ## TO WORK THIRD CREW AT RUSSELL

Improving conditions in the coal business will result this week in calling out a third crew at the Russell yards of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, it was said Monday. The night crew, which was relieved several weeks ago, because of light traffic, will be put back to work within the next few days, it is expected.

Opening of lake navigation is said to be one of the main factors in improved conditions in the coal trade. The improvement, while still slight, is expected to grow gradually until normal conditions have been restored.

A number of mines along the Chesapeake & Ohio, which have been closed, or which have been operating with reduced forces, are preparing for increased activity in the next few weeks, it is said.

Will Meet At Haverhill

The next meeting of the Portsmouth District Rural Life Association will be held at Haverhill M. E. church the first Friday in April. The last meeting of the Association was held last Friday at Scitoville, when splendid papers were read by Rev. C. W. Harrison of South Webster and Rev. H. A. Kirk of Wheelersburg. Rev. W. W. Welser of Ironton, formerly of Scitoville, is secretary of the Association.

POLITICS WARMING UP IN Ironton

The Irontonian of local interest yesterday said:

"Aspirants for the Republican nomination for mayor are already looking up. Sam Bowman and Glen Sloan are both making a warm bid for the backing of the gang, while Earl Stewart has definitely announced that he will be a candidate for the nomination as an independent Republican and Councilman D. J. James is also being urged by his friends to enter the contest. It is certain, however, that there will be several more entries before the lists are closed and there is every indication that the coming mayoralty contests will be interesting as several aspirants want to contest with Mayor Collett for the Democratic nomination. The way they have the thing figured out is that if either Sloan or Bowman get Republican nomination and Collett the Democratic nomination the gang stands to win whichever way it goes and they want a fighting chance."

Testing Diamonds. In order to determine accurately the nature of diamonds, it is well to breathe on them; then they lose for a moment their luster, and the eye is then better enabled, says the Scientific American Supplement, to examine them and distinguish their faults. The real diamond becomes clear much sooner than the false.

WHY HAVE CATARRH?

So Disagreeable to Yourself and All About You.

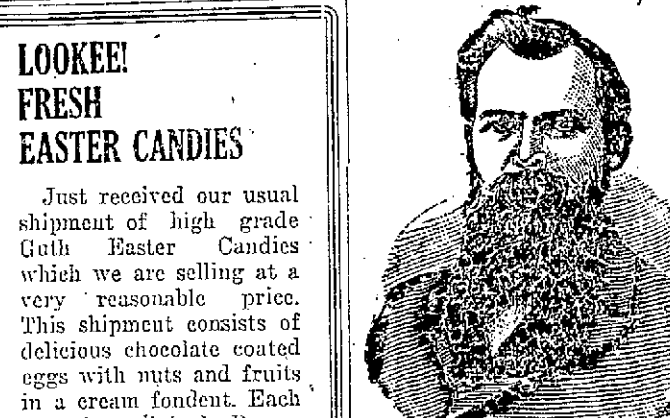

Catarrh is generally conceded to be a constitutional disease. Therefore it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla which reaches every part of the system by thoroughly purifying and enriching the blood. This medicine removes the cause of the trouble, which if not checked may lead to more serious disease. In 45 years of use and test Hood's Sarsaparilla has relieved many cases as told by voluntary letters of commendation. Why not get a bottle today and give it a trial? It combines economy and efficiency. Keep Hood's Pills on hand as a family cathartic.

A new way—a quick way to paint your floors

No need to lug out all the furniture. Just move it over to one side; then paint the other side.

Forty-eight hours, and it is all done, and the room is use again. That means 2 days and 2 nights. But you can't do it with "any old floor paint." As sure as preaching, if you try it, with anything but Lowe Brothers Hard-Drying Floor Paint, you will have a mess on your hands. Lowe Brothers Floor Paint is made in a certain way to make it dry quickly, and hard, and still stand wear and tear. It gives a beautiful glossy surface, that can be wiped up same as if it were glass.

It is sold by only one dealer in town. That's us.

South Webster Wins Game

In Glenwood High School gym at New Boston Saturday night, the South Webster High School fleet won a 32 to 27 victory from the New Boston high-bugs. The game was one of the best played on the New Boston floor this year. The team work of the visitors proved too much for New Boston, who attempted a come-back in the last few minutes of play, the lead obtained by South Webster being too big to overcome.

Monk To Play In Florida League

Catcher "Widge" Moulk, crack backstopper of Gabe's All Stars, who was given a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals last season, has been ordered to report to the Lakeland, Fla., team of the Florida State League, with which club he has signed to play the coming season.

Specials Will Play

Tuesday, (tomorrow) night, in Whitehall ball, the Blue-Specials will clash with the fast Portsmouth College of Business basketball five. This is the first time these two aggressive teams have met, and one of the hottest games of the season is looked for. The Specials have just reorganized and will present a strong lineup against the Business College five. The game will start at 6:30, sharp, and an admission of 15 cents will be charged.

To Continue City League

FRONTON, March 7.—It has been announced by the manager of the High School base ball team for this season that if the present beautiful weather continues the nine will be out for practice the coming week in preparation for the several games they have booked. Manager Shockey Taylor has a championship team lined up from the High School boys.

It is very likely that the City League will be continued as heretofore, and an effort is being made to draw the Elks into the ring.

Sewell Reports

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 7.—Joe Sewell, shortstop of the Cleveland Americans, arrived at the spring training camp thirty-six hours ahead of the squad of fielders, which was due to reach Dallas this afternoon. Sewell went to Dallas direct from Tuscaloosa, where he had been working with the Union of Alabama team for several weeks.

Guy Morton, of Vernon, Alabama, who reported a week ago, also was a day ahead of the other batterymen.

Want Answer On Fight Offer

NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—Canadian promoters interested in holding the proposed Dempsey-Carpentier championship match at Montreal were here today to get Promoter Tex Rickards answer to their offer of $700,000. They were tentatively set July 2 as the date for the bout.

C. F. Graham, representing the Canadian syndicate, interested in the match, said he would be able to satisfy Rickard that the bout could be held in Montreal without interference.

How Speaker Sizes 'Em Up

Another Indian summer. Tris Speaker predicts one for Cleveland. The Tribe will take the field in April with the same lineup that coped the whole works last fall. He prophesied a pennant a year ago, then went out and fought for it. "I feel I have the right to make the same claim for the Indians of 1911," says Spoke.

Sizing 'Em Up
Here's Speaker's dope on the coming campaign:

White Sox—non-contenders.
Red Sox—Weaker.

Tigers—Better fighters.
Nationals—Better hitting and Walter Johnson.

Browns—Trouble makers.
Athletics—Great pitching staff and corners.

Yankees—Babe Ruth & Co., strengthened.

Indians—Same o'd stuff.

Every precaution to avoid pitfall other championship teams have fallen into has been taken by Tris.

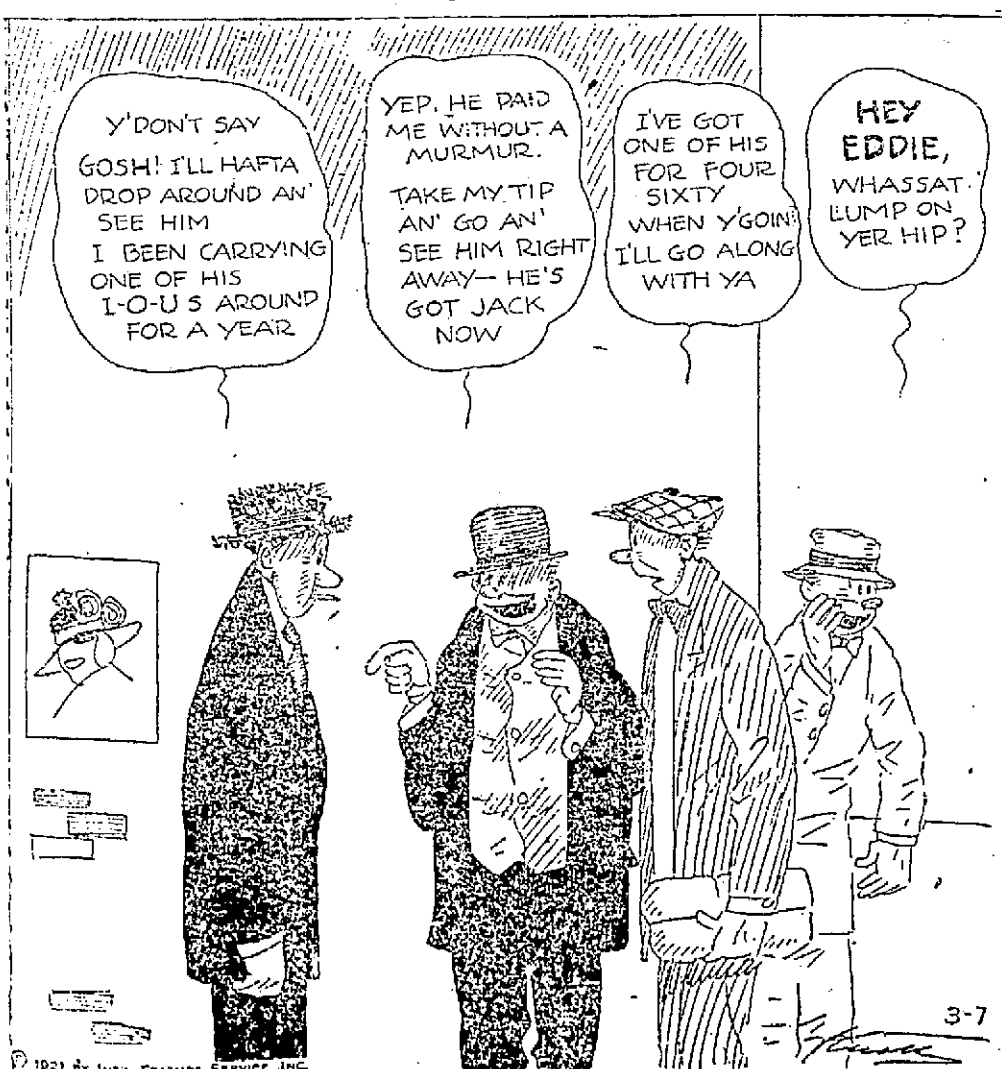

New Orleans and the ponies will give the goby for Dallas as a training camp.

Roush Demands $20,000

Eddie Roush has issued his ultimatum to the Cincinnati management. He says he will receive $20,000 for his season's work or he will not play a single game. And the funny part about it is that Roush will get the $20,000 and will report to the Reds in about ten days.

PROPHETS AND POWDER

ANYONE who hasn't been strictly excluded from feminine companionship comes to the conclusion sooner or later that woman is the same the world over, and that she hasn't changed a great deal from the time of Eve to the passing of the eighteenth amendment.

Mas hasn't changed much, either. He's still fool enough, as a rule, to think he knows something about the other sex, and he still struts around and tells himself that he is the boss.

John Knox, that staid and reverend Presbyterian of a bygone age, was such a man. His "Blasphemy of the Trumpet Against the Monstrous Regiment of Women" was directed at Mary, Queen of Scots, and other beautiful women of the day. Mr. Knox was peeved because they were so doggone easy to look at, or at least that is about what a modern peruser of his "Blasphemy" will gather.

The same sort of ire rouses Overseer Voliva of Zion, Ill., the successor of Dowie, the prophet. Women who go to the Zion tabernacle and powder their noses are sacrilegious, Voliva says. He has just issued a warning that he'll lecture any powdered ladies in the congregation and that he'll slap 'em, too.

Now, Mr. Voliva, be reasonable. We say it for your own protection. You may get away with the lecture, but Mr. Voliva, a slapped woman, powder or no powder, is something to look out for.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH RUSSIA?

ADVOCATES of the soviet system of government which has been in power in Russia for almost four years assert that the world does not understand the principles underlying the rule which the bolsheviks have imposed upon Russia and which propagandists seek to extend into other countries; that it is ignorance which denies recognition of the red theories.

Receptions on the part of the soviet leaders have kept the world from learning the truth about conditions in Russia, but enough information has come out of that country to let other nations know that, no matter what may be claimed for the soviet system of government in theory, it is bringing ruin to Russia in practice.

It is not necessary to base this belief upon statements made by opponents of the bolshevik creed. It is upheld by information furnished by persons who have gone to Russia with a prejudice in favor of the soviet plan. These envoys have almost without exception either condemned the system, or have been unwilling to attempt to defend it.

Jacob Rubin, a Socialist of Milwaukee, has told the foreign relations committee of the house that the trouble with Russia is that nobody is disposed to work. This is not necessarily because the Russian is inherently lazy. He is accommodating himself to the soviet creed, which denies individual initiative and gives the state complete control of all property.

The Russian army was maintained more because plenty of food was guaranteed to the soldiers, and it was no more of a risk to enter the army than it was to work without the prospect of getting anything more than a mere living. The result of the bolshevik theory in practice is that Russia is not producing enough food for her own people, in spite of her great natural resources. The people, having no incentive to create values for themselves, are failing even to do enough to sustain themselves.

Russia today is a nation of 180,000,000 people in voluntary idleness.

AND STILL REMAINS SO

MOST countries had the right of sanctuary, briefly that a man, pursued by officers or enemies, if he could gain some holy place before they laid hands upon him was safe.

In the course of time as irreligion was born of the thing they call modern civilization and progress, the right of sanctuary fell into disuse. There arose, however, by common consent, sustained by law, another right embraced in the declaration, that every man's home is his castle, which interpreted means he had a right to defend even to death the invasion of his domicile by force or unlawfully.

That was a right, just and holy, that withstood all assaults until the idea of making men good by statute took such deep root and became altogether too common in practice. So it came about that it was enacted by congress and various states that a man's home was no longer his castle and whenever there was flimsy suspicion or grudge against him, his home might be invaded without process and without formality.

There are thousands where this has actually been done, but no less an authority than the supreme court of the United States says it must stop. This august and wise tribunal says a man's home is his castle and must always be, unless the constitution of these United States is radically changed again. Indeed, so indignantly does it reprobate this statutory attempt to violate the sanctity of home that it decreed where a man was convicted on a search and seizure, without process, that he shall go acquit and the evidence gathered against him shall be returned to the place from which it was taken.

That is good and safe doctrine. It does not lame the law and paralyze its enforcement, it but sets bars against it becoming an engine of persecution.

Nurses Wanted

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Where is the girl who wants to be a nurse? The national nursing organizations of the country are looking for her, because lately she doesn't seem to be looking for them.

Nursing has always been a woman's work. Out of every class of high school graduates, or even out of grammar school graduating classes, there have invariably been some girls who would be nurses. Now, one big hospital in New York reports that instead of having 35 or 40 pupil nurses entering each year, it gets only about four. That proportion is repeated all over the country, and conditions are worse in the smaller hospital schools where facilities for training are not so attractive to student nurses.

When the war offered adventure and dramatic service to volunteer nurses, there were thousands of women who studied and worked untiringly—even to sacrificing their health, some of them—so long as the fighting lasted. After that, like the soldiers, most of them wanted to get back to their regular lives. Nursing with them was war work—incidental.

So the war did not flood the country with nurses seeking civilian employment. On the contrary, the lack of nurses for hospitals and homes has become acute. And because the future looks still more critical, the national nursing associations have started a campaign to interest girls in nursing as a profession. This campaign has already been taken up enthusiastically in 24 states, for the need for more nurses is nationwide.

While recruiting is being pushed, the nursing organizations are also trying to awaken the hospitals to the fact that they cannot expect to attract the kind of girls that should be in the nursing profession unless student life is made easier and more profitable. The hospitals were beginning to see this for themselves and a reform is under way.

Overworked Students
In the past, the student nurses worked 12 hours a day. Her classes were moved about from one hour to another or left out entirely when her services were needed about the wards. In fact, these conditions still obtain in some training schools, but they will not last long, because girls will not enter these schools. Progressive hospitals have shortened the pupil nurse's day to eight hours, though in some schools studying and class work has to be done outside of this period.

What the nursing organizations are saying is that no hospital should take students for the purpose of getting free labor. If a hospital is going to conduct a school it should understand that its obligation to the students—to give them a thorough training—is as great as its obligation to the patients—to give them proper treatment. That they do not all feel this obligation toward the nurses they are to send out to all sorts of responsible positions is proved by such facts as those given by a state inspector of training schools. This inspector figures that 50 per cent of the training schools that he visits are to varying extents "taking unfair advantage of their pupil nurses by surrendering the rights of the pupils in the alleged interests of the sick."

One way in which the pupil nurse is often carelessly used to help the hospital is that sometimes a patient in the hospital desires a nurse exclusively for his case but cannot pay the rate of a graduate. He says he will take an undergraduate nurse, and one of the pupils is detailed to him at about half the graduate's fee, the money going to the hospital. Now if this work lasted a few days, even a week, it might be practical experience for the student. She would learn something of that particular type of disease. But the case may go on for weeks or months, and the nurse is gaining nothing.

Besides too long hours and a too flexible system of instruction in training schools, pupil nurses have had to put up with bad rooming conditions. In one hospital here an unused ward is little more than a dormitory for the pupils. In another school the students live in houses across the street from the hospital, four or five girls in a room. The desirable standard for nurses' quarters is a comfortable residence, well lighted and heated and separate from the hospital, with single rooms for the students.

Hospitals are having to meet higher standards because they can no longer overlook the fact that young women are more cautious about starting upon a career now than they once were. No girl who enters a hospital expects to have an easy time, but she does expect and demand a broad course of training under livable conditions.

Girl Has Many Choices
There are so many other vocations

open to the high school girl graduate now that she no longer takes up nursing as the alternative of a life of teaching school. That is the main reason why the army of nurses has dwindled. Business, law and other professions are offering big rewards, while the hospitals have gone on offering the same old rewards.

Most women who take up nursing as a profession are impressed by the possibilities of the work, but nowadays a girl who is interested in this kind of social service is generally interested enough to find out exactly what she will get by her course of training. For instance, there are fewer girls entering these hospitals, sanatoria and private hospitals that are not able to register their graduates. Not to be registered in the state means that the graduate will have two or three years of teaching cannot become a member of the Red Cross Nursing Association, an Army or Navy nurse, nor would she be admitted as a staff nurse in most hospitals of recognized standing.

Training school standards are rising and so are the standards for nurses. At one time girls just out of grammar school were in a good many hospitals admitted as probationers. The tendency now is to demand a high school diploma and to make the nurses training approximately a college or normal school course with a B. S. degree. Over 20 colleges now maintain schools of nursing, usually giving a five-year course. The army also has an excellent training school where a three-year course is given.

Nurses—really trained nurses—are going to be needed in ever-increasing numbers as we aim at higher standards of health and sanitation. Right now, more public health nurses are needed for child welfare work, medical social service departments. Graduate nurses for permanent hospital staffs are scarce—one reason why the student nurse has had less time for study during her hospital training. The army is conducting its own campaign for more students. Nurses for home duty and for missionary work are also scarce. And yet these branches offer a more varied or a more highly specialized career than nurses have ever been offered before.

The nursing associations have organized their campaign on a remarkably systematic basis. Red Cross chapters, women's clubs, boards of education, and other local organizations are told to form a local committee to conduct such campaign. And from that point the campaign is a series of posters, speeches, literature, and moving pictures until the town or state gets the recruits needed.

"Recruiting may continue for months, even years," says Major Julia Stinson, superintendent of the Army Nurse Corps, who is chairman of the national recruiting committee. "The drive has just begun, but the outlook is hopeful because already the states are getting recruits, and people are beginning really to understand how important the trained nurse is—and how many of her kind are needed."

WHO'S WHO
In The Days News

FRANK W. STEARNS

What Roosevelt was to Taft, Harry Hama to McKinley, and Mark M. Dandridge to Harding, Frank W. Stearns was to Calvin Coolidge, the vice president of the U. S. To Stearns the country owes its respects for his discovery of Calvin Coolidge.

It was first in the spring and winter of 1915 that Stearns undertook to bring out a "Who's Who" of the state, not as a mere directory, but as a biographical dictionary of the state of Massachusetts.

At first Stearns was confronted with unusual difficulties, for Calvin Coolidge was as modest a man as was to be found in New England. Stearns finally persuaded Coolidge to accept the nomination for the lieutenant governorship, including starting him on the road to his present office.

Stearns is the son of D. H. Stearns, who in 1867 established the big Boston dry goods house known as D. H. Stearns and Company. He was born in Boston, 1867. He is now, at sixty-five, in the prime of mental vigor and bodily health. He is a graduate of Amherst college. In order to carry on his work of "advertising" Coolidge in his book he saw one of the great men of Massachusetts, he abandoned his business.

The Passing of the Red and Other

The U. S. Commissioner of Education recently declared teachers unable to maintain discipline without corporal punishment incompetent. "Education and discipline have no use for such methods," he said. Quite a change in fifty years. In 1870 a teacher, and particularly a school principal or superintendent, who hesitated to give an unruly or impatient boy a whacking was regarded as remiss in his duties. The red was the badge of authority.

The wisdom of Solomon prevailed. "He that smother his rod hateth his son; but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes." Few boys of the 70's were there who knew the variations between Mother's little switchings, Father's more impressive strokes, and the businesslike whippings of Dever. They were wholesome lessons in obedience, unpleasant at the time, but effective.

Now all that has passed, along with Jay's Arithmetic, McGuffey's Readers, the Friday afternoon spelling book, and the other school books of two generations ago, and spelled to a finish. This was the grand finale of the week, the sequel of the daily "spells," in which the pupils contended for "head marks"—cherished prizes indeed.

And the old geography lessons! Surely a fellow needed a friend when he stood up in front of a great map on the wall on which were the rivers and cities of Europe or some other great division, but without names, and was expected to name the whole. The teacher's pointer might rest, and do it right off the bat. We remember particularly one such map of South America, and the great Amazon River, where fifty-odd years ago we were submerged by the sears of a reproving teacher.

Hot Drinks For Long Relief

Enter Prof. Bokey of the French Academy of Medicine, with the report that hot drinks prolong life and endow one with vigor. This professional conclusion is entirely reasonable. A hot drink "sets" better than a cold one, and a hot drink ought to be more wholesome than a cold one.

To begin at the beginning, how many babies would live if fed cold milk, warm milk being their natural food? Long ago medical authorities declared that food with meat, and ice cream at the conclusion of a meal, retarded the process of digestion thirty minutes; which is to say that a child's stomach is a dead one until the stomach is able to bring it back to vitality with such resources as it may have in warm food.

On the other hand, there is the craving one has for cold drinks. Is it natural or artificial? Probably the latter. At any rate, all people who work in a hot place and are exposed to the heat of the sun, and especially in cold weather. During the heated season, when temperatures run above normal, the cold cream and liquid confections may work no injury, but we have not evidence to fortify his claim that hot drinks strengthen and cold ones weaken the human grip on long life.

The stomach is the fuel box of a man. There his food is turned into blood, strength, vigor, energy at a very warm temperature. Chill the fuel box and you put the source of your powers out of business for the time being, which is bad for the stomach and its owner.

He had been a powder chemist in France when the Revolution drove him from his native land, and on coming to this country he had a plan for manufacturing powder in the land of his adoption.

Evidence All One Way

The American Federation of Labor officially condemns the soviet government of Russia as a menace to the interests of labor. The Norwegian labor party calls it "barbarous soviet Russia." The French labor union, composed of metal workers, protests against it. British, German, and Italian labor delegations sent to Russia found soviet government abominable. Bolshevism was denounced by the conference of national and international unions last week.

Everywhere intelligent labor has its face sternly against bolshevism and soviet government.

I'm a little automobile
Growing older every hour
Nobody fixes the rattle in me
For I'm as old as old can be.

I'm a little electric battery
Growing drier every hour
Nobody cares to give me juice
Every one says it's just no use.

I'm a little radiator
Growing drier every hour
I like water—I like run
I like alcohol, by gum.

Q. Tell us what to do to catch flying squirrels in a loft which annoys us.

A. J. M. E.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys, fit belittles and at my poor scribbling, and then to see my alligator which will not eat. Walking through the Mall I watched the children play and on a sudden notion hired a goat team for them, which upset but without harm. A child with holds the city, but in my last year's coat I was pretty well at ease and looked very noble.

At the park entrance a man was flung by a horse and some one said it was Jim Powers, the play actor, but he limped away without help. Coming back toward my house I saw young Cornelius Vanderbilt sprucing down the steps from his fine mansion, wearing bright yellow gloves and a brace fur hat, and I kept pace behind him, my head full of thoughts, mostly anxious, of how it would be to live in such splendor.

Stopping in at Dean's I bought a half chocolate cake for my wife, Peter, and then watched a funeral procession leaving a big church, passing in with J. Keating, my old acquaintance, he told me of being in Europe two years and of desperate conditions there. Saw, too, Basil King, the Canadian pamphleteer.

Home and fell to cleaning up my desk, but soon gave up in despair and P. Kelly came and we ate the cake brought for my wife, and drank brandy and both nighty merry, fastidious quips and quarks. Later to my mother-in-law's house and then for a walk with the dog. And so to bed.

New York pawnshops these days are revealing all sorts of pledged articles. During the war flush period the pawnshops were almost deserted. False teeth, crutches, baby rings and beads—the last articles usually to be pawned—are now going over the counters. There is one article that is never pawned, so the brokers say. That is a gold stick. It is a money man's game and for that reason gold enthusiasts very seldom have to pay a visit to the shop.

It used to be when along Broadway a man over indulged and wanted to confess he would explode. "Tore, I'm tighter than an owl." Then they let him to the Turkish Bath. Now he says: "Tore, I'm sitting pretty." It is one of the strange phrases that hops up into popularity in the hands where new slang distinguishes men. It is pronounced as all the rest, but it finds an instant appeal.

Nervous folk, the doctors say, are avoiding walks on Fifth Avenue since the new traffic regulations. The sudden quiet of the avenue when traffic comes to a halt is said to have a harp psychological action on frayed nerves. Even to the nervous the effect is calming. The roar of a thousand motor cars suddenly stills. Life itself seems to have halted. Then the lights flash from tower to tower, the upturn is unleashed and the street becomes a mad hurly burly of excitement.

A storm is brewing in the Authors League of America. The members are to wage war on magazines that do not give the author the right to dispose of the moving picture privileges. In many instances it has been found that magazines have made twice the amount they paid for a story by selling it to the movie producer. The authors intend to boycott such magazines.

A. The Bureau of Biological Survey suggests that you use steel or rat traps in your loft to catch flying squirrels. They should be baited with the meat of pecans or hickory nuts.

Q. Will wireless waves pass through wood? F. S. B.

A. Wireless waves will penetrate anything that light will. It might pass through some wood, but usually will travel along it.

Q. Kindly advise me the diameter of Helene's, its distance from the earth and whether it is a new star.

R. L. M.

A. The Naval Observatory says recent measurements of Helene's star, an approximate diameter of 270,000,000 miles. Its distance from the earth is estimated to be about 20 light-years or 1200 trillion miles. This is not a new star.
